This scud, when driven inland, invests every tree and shrub with ice which, in the clear sunlight, flashes back the rays like so many surfaces of the purest crystal. Arctic Journey. Climate of the Plains.--The climate of the Plains exhibits some peculiarities deserving of notice, -- such as the purity of the air; the cloudless skies during certain seasons, giving to the landscape such sharply-defined outlines; the dewless nights; the illusive phantoms of the mirage; and the feeling of vastness which impresses every beholder as he stands on some high swell, and in every direction, sees the surface stretched out like a hemisphere. Chicago Academy of Sciences, Vol. I. As in the distant north there is a mingling of spring...
